WOULD HAVE PEOPLE VOTE TO DECLARE WAR

RESOLUTION BEFORE AMERICAN FEDERATION LABOR TO THAT EFFECT

Would Take Power To Declare War From Congress and Put It With People on a Majority Vote --Also Favor Government Ownership of Transportation Systems.

(By The Associated Press)

DENVER, Colo., June 15.—Organized labor would demand that the power to declare war be withdrawn from congress and be placed in the hands of the people by constitutional amendment if a resolution introduced is adopted by the convention of the American Federation of Labor.

The proposal provides that a declaration of war must have the approval of a majority of the voters and that "all those voting in favor of the declaration be compelled to take up the active prosecution of the same before those who voted against the declaration of war."

The resolution declared that the provision for a referendum vote on war was necessary to better protect and safeguard the people and their interests.

"The natural result of our present system of business and industry said the preamble to the resolution, especially the foreign and commercial and financial is such as to at frequent intervals cause wars to be declared between nations at the behest of those interested in said activities to secure or protect the so-called sacred rights of profits."

Should the resolution be adopted the executive committee of the federation would be instructed to take all necessary and legal steps to secure a war referendum constitutional amendment.

Two Important Resolutions

Two important resolutions have been submitted. One signed by representaives of all railroad organizations directs the executive council "to assist the recognized labor organizations by every effort within their power to have proper legislation enaced providing for government ownership and Democratic operation of the transportation systems of the United States."

The other resolution demands prompt restoration of the railroads to unified government operation.

Under the scheme of unified operations it was stated "freight rates should be reduced to those in force when the railroads were returned to their owners in order to stimulate traffic and revive agricultural and other legitimate business."

Want Wholesome Beer

Modification of the Volstead act so as to permit the manufacture and sale of "a national beverage of wholesome beer," is demanded in a resolution while another urged that congress be asked to submit the question of prohibition to popular vote.

Other resolutions provided:

"That the federation establish banks in each city and union men be permitted to become shareholders after they have reached an age to be designated."

That the incoming administration of the federation call a conference of the officers of all affiliated organizations for the purpose of devising a strike insurance plan thru which efforts to compel new working conditions for any organization can be adequately financed.

That the executive council be called together to consider ways and means for acquiring a chain of daily newspapers to present labor's attitude fairly to the public and that heads of affiliated organizations may be called upon for financial ai dto the project.

Support of Non-Partisan League

That members be urged to invest money in the bonds for North Dakota issued in support of the Non-Partisan League program.

That an active campaign be inaugurated to organize the more than two million office workers in the United States and Canada.

That steps be taken to defeat the measure before congress introduced for the purpose of the weakening or destroying the department of labor.

That the federation urge upon both state and federal boards for vocational education, the necessity of maintaining effective standards that will be of practical value in giving intensive vocational training courses—standards and courses which will insure an equal opportunity for the large

DOWNSTATE CITIES WIN IN FIGHT TO GET MORE TAXES

Will Permit Levying Beyond $1.33 1-3 Limit

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 15.—Downstate mayors and councilmen won a victory in the senate tonight when the upper branch of the general assembly re-amended the Juul law amendment to permit downstate cities to levy beyond the $1.33 1-3 tax limit for special purposes. The clause which the house eliminated from the original bill was reinserted by the senate tonight when the bill was advanced to third reading.

Adoption of the measure by the senate tomorrow will throw it into conference and back to the house for concurrence.

The house amendment was made after Representative Lee O'Neil Browne succeeded in having the first vote reconsidered when the tax limit was fixed at $1.33 1-3 for both general and special purposes.

Representatives of many of the downstate cities, members of the Illinois Municipal League, declared that their municipalities would be thrown into financial distress if the bill was passed as it left the house with the Browne amendment.

FORD-NEWBERRY CASE REACHING IT'S FINAL STAGES

Newberry Counsel Offers No Testimony to Committee

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Requests of Henry Ford's counsel that more evidence be heard in his contest for the seat of Senator Newberry, Republican, of Michigan were denied today by the senate committee conducting the hearings, and a practical termination was given to trial stages of the case.

Chairman Spencer's formal ruling referring to the Ford demand for permission to go into the bank accounts of Lyman D. Smith, a New York broker who helped finance the Newberry campaign, drew an equally formal dissent from Senator Wolcott of Delaware, Democrat.

Offer No Testimony

Judge Murfin, representing Senator Newberry, offered no testimony when Alfred Lucking, counsel for Mr. Ford announced their last witness had been heard under the committee's ruling.

He inserted into the record some of the transcript of evidence taken in the criminal proceedings against the Newberry campaigners last year and stopped with that, indicating that he would not even seek opportunity for argument.

Mr. Lucking said that Ford counsel desired to be heard before the full senate elections committee a sub-committee of which has conducted the hearings. This was another point left pending. Both sides will prepare and file briefs.

Chairman Spencer's overruling of the Ford contention, with the dissent of Senator Wolcott as minority spokesman ran against a request to add evidence by deposition from Henry B. Joy, a Detroit capitalist who helped back Senator Newberry's campaign and from B. F. Emery, office manager of the campaign committee, both of whom failed to answer senate subpoenas on account of serious illness. The only evidence taken today related to accounting and was introduced as expert testimony.

RECOMMEND POOL OF $50,000,000

CHICAGO, June 15.—A bankers' fifty million dollar pool, designed to give immediate relief by loans to livestock men, was recommended today by Chicago, New York, and other bankers meeting at the request of Secretary Mellon.

Under the plan outlined bankers will participate in the pool, which, according to John R. Mitchell of the federal reserve system and Eugene Meyer, managing director of the war finance corporation should tend towards bringing financial relief to stock raisers in need of such aid. Mr. Mitchell and Myer represented Secretary Mellon.

George M. Reynolds of the Continental and Commercial Bank of Chicago was chairman of the committee evolving the plan.

APPOINTMENTS ARE NOT SATISFACTORY TO REPUBLICANS

Lodge and Willis Said to be on Warpath Over Recent Ones

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 15—Senators Lodge of Massachussetts, the Republican leader and Willis of Ohio, who nominated President Harding at Chicago are on the war path over some of the recent appointments made by the president.

Senator Lodge has expressed dissatisfaction with the nomination of Proffesor Julius Klein of Harvard University to be director of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce and at his request the senate commerce committee deferred action today on the nomination until tomorrow when an executive hearing is expected. Proffesor Klein was chosen by Secretary Hoover.

Senator Willis is continuing his opposition to the appointment of Charles H. Nauts of Toledo, Ohio, to be collector of internal revenut for the Tenth Ohio district. Both he and Senator Lodge called at the white house today but neither saw the president.

Has Filed Memorandum

Senator Willis has filed a memorandum against Mr. Nauts with the senate finance committee. Another patronage row reported brewing is over the nomination of Frank A. Linney, Republican state chairman of North Carolina. He is encountering opposition from influential senators because of an alleged letter opposing voting last November by negroes.

These and other patronage troubles were said to be the cause of some friction between the capitol and white house, but Republican leaders were confident that no serious trouble was probable. Several of the patronage rows were said to have been charged to Attorney General Daugherty who recently had a clash with Senator Frelinghuysen Republican of New Jersey, over encouragement given to a New Jersey man whom Senator Frelinghuysen gave favor.

This is said to have been adjustetd.

HOUSE PASSES SCOTT NAVIGATION MEASURE

WASHINGTON, June 15.—The Scott bill lengthening the navigation season on the great lakes and permitting use of two instead of three crews on vessels making short trips was passed today by the house. The measure now goes to the senate.

CONFEREES ON ARMY MEASURE ARE DEADLOCKED

Unable to Agree on the Size of Next Year's Army

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Conferees on the army appropriation bill reached a deadlock today on the size of next year's army and decided to report the disagreement to the house and senate with request for further instructions.

Secretary Weeks appeared at today's meeting to urge an agreement on the senate provisions for a gradual reduction during the next fiscal year to a minimum army of one hundred and fifty thousand enlisted men, but the house managers refused to yield from their position in favor of a quick reduction to that figure.

The senate conferees were reported as standing for a reduction from the two hundred and twenty thousand total in service July 1 to a minimum of one hundred and fifty thousand which they said could be accomplished by next May. The house conferees were said to be insisting that the reduction be carried out by October.

Secretary Weeks was understood to have said that should the position of the house managers prevail he would not accept the responsibility for what might happen to the army as, he said, it was impossible to reduce the garrisons in the Philippines, Panama and Hawaii, and striking seventy thousand from the rolls within three months would render the forces within the United States impotent.

Agreement was reached on all other provisions.

LANTZ GRAIN BILL DIES QUIETLY ON TUESDAY EVENING

Friends and Foes at Bedside When the End Came

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 15. —The Lantz grain exchange bill is dead.

Both friends and foes reached this agreement tonight after Representative Homer J. Tice, main champion of the bill in the house met former speaker Shanahan of Chicago, one of its chief antagonists, and promised not to call it up, but to let it die quietly.

This word was greeted with expressions of pleasure by President Griffin of the Chicago board of trade, the head of the organization which has so vigorously opposed the bill. He refused a statement but it is known that he believes that the contest just waged in the Illinois legislature is of national or even world-wide importance.

The Illinois Agricultural Association, leading several farmers' organizations, were the prime movers in support of the measure which in effect would put the board of trade under state supervision. A companion bill which would curb trading in futures, did not reach the house.

NEGOTIATIONS OPEN BETWEEN U.S. AND JAPAN

Hope to Settle Questions at Issue Between Countries

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Direct negotiations have been begun between the United States and Japan for the settlement of the questions pending between them. These include the Island of Yap, the immigration question, the alien land question and the return of Shantung to China by Japan.

The negotiations are being conducted by Baron Shidehara, the Japanese ambassador and Secretary Hughes. The settlement of the Yap question would make unnecessary its consideration by the league of nations.

It had expected that the Yap issue would be left to adjustment by the league council which is to meet tomorrow in Geneva. The French government in answer to the American protest against the award of the mandate for the Island of Yap said it would bring the subject before the council.

It is understood that the basis for settlement in the negotiation between Ambassador Shidehara and Secretary Hughes will be internationalization of the cable privileges on the island.

Immigration Issue

The proposal is to settle the immigration issue on the basis of the complete stoppage of all Japanese Coolie immigration with proper protection for Japanese property rights already acquired in the United States.

Japan's promise to return Shantung to China, it is said, is to be executed as soon as practicable and without reference of the question to any European tribunal. The initial steps have been taken for the evacuation of the province held by the Japanese, the military force having been reduced to between three thousand and thirty five hundred soldiers.

Japan, it is said, will retain only such privileges in the province as are common to the other nations. Japan, it is explained, never has taken over all the railroad properties formerly operated by the Germans in Shantung, confining her claims to that portion of the railroad from Tsing-Tau to Tsinan-Fu and leaving the important line crossing the province at the latter junction in the hands of the former operatives under the nominal control of the Chinese government.

PACKER LEGISLATION WILL COME BEFORE SENATE FOR ACTION

Doubt is Expressed as to Passage of the Regulatory Bill Recommended by the Agriculture Committee—Centers on the Question of Government Regulation of Business

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Legislation to provide government regulation of packing industry will come to a vote tomorrow in the senate. Doubt existed tonight among leaders whether the senate would approve the regulatory bill recommended by its agriculture committee or would reject it and approve the bill as passed by the house. The former is before the senate as an amendment to the house measure and reports were current tonight that it would be voted down and the house bill accepted.

Proponents of the Senate bill consider the house measure as less drastic and have charged that opponents of packer regulation favor it for that reason.

Debate today was about evenly divided between opponents and supporters and in order that a vote might be deferred tomorrow by lengthy discussion the senate held its first night meeting of this session.

Opposition to the pending legislation today centered largely about the question of government regulation of business. Senator Fernald, Republican, of Maine, declaring that regulatory commissions added to the burdens of the tax payers. Senator Brandegee, Republican of Connecticut, expressed fear that regulation of the packing industry would be the entering wedge for government supervision of grain coal and other products.

THOMPSON BILLS ARE ADVANCED TO SECOND READING

Senate Concurs in Several Amendments to Utilities Bill

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 15. —Mayor Thompson's "peoples' ownership" transportation bill with its three companion measures were reported out by the senate public utilities committee and advanced to second reading late today.

The senate concurred in several amendments made by the committee among them a change which eliminates reference to a specified car fare of five cents. Instead the trustees of the proposed transportation district are given authority to fix a "reasonable fare."

The Chicago mayor and his forces in the legislature declared that elimination of the five cent fare clause does not mean that Thompson has backed up on the question. The mayor said he did not care so much about phraseology of the bill as long as it was understood that he considered five cents a "reasonable fare."

CRIMINAL ACTION MAY BE BROUGHT AGAINST OFFICERS

May Follow Cancellation of Contracts for Army Harness

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Criminal proceedings against a number of former army officers may follow the action of President Harding in cancelling war department contracts with the United States Harness company of Ranson, W. Va., for the disposal of surplus harness, it was said tonight at the department of justice.

Attorney General Daugherty it was said was considering the government's course of action.

Cancellation of the contracts was announced by Secretary Weeks who explained were entered into by former director Sales of the war department with the approval of Secretary Baker and provided that the large accumulation of surplus harness should be turned over to the company for disposal.

President Cancels Contracts

The president in cancelling the contracts, he said, acted upon the advices and recommendation of Mr. Daugherty who reported after investigation that the contracts had been entered into in violation of criminal statutes prohibiting officers or employes of the government from having an interest in government property or contracts. The value of the harness the company was to handle, officials declared, had been variously estimated, but was in te neighborhood of nine million or ten million dollars.

Officials of the sales division of the war department declined to discuss the case.

Investigation of the harness contract was begun by congress and was reviewed a few weeks ago jointly by the department of justice and the war department.

One reason that the people complain so bitterly about taxes is the fact that the citizen is subject to so many taxing bodies. The federal, state, municipal, road district and school authorities have tax making powers and there are other special boards as well that can do something in this line.

When the ideal system of taxation is evolved there will be some consolidation of these powers and the whole question of taxation will be settled at one time. Then there will be a less chance for injustice to the property owner.

Very frequently "investigations" made by the federal and state governments amount to little so far as results are concerned. Perhaps it will be different with the one now proposed thru the department of justice, relative to the excess profits made during the wartime.

There have been many stories as to the wrong doing in this regard, especially with reference to government business, and it will be a fine thing if the real facts can be brought out.

It would be a still finer thing if when charges have been proven there are convictions and the partakers of illegal profits made to disgorge.

When you are worrying about the fact that the legislative sessions can last only a few days more and there are scores and scores of bills awaiting action, you must remember that the legislators never intended for many of these bills to come to a final hearing.

Quincy business men have made very clear the value they place on the Boy Scout movement. The troops there have a "home" at their disposal and in addition there is a property known as Burton's cave which belongs to the Scouts. And now another citizen has offered to deed a tract of 36 acres of land to the organization. It is located a few miles out of Quincy and has a spring and other attractions that would make it admirable for scouting expeditions.

Secretary Hughes told the graduates of Brown univresity that America's influence must not be diminished "by relating ourselves unnesecarily to political questions which involve rivalries of interests abroad with which we have no proper concern."

Read the sentence over and you will find as much in it as some prominent men have taken one hundred times a much pace to tell without being one-half as clear. Then the secretary goes on to say that the United States economically is very closely yoked with Europe and that prosperity here depends upon conditions there. Mr. Hughes has a way of talking about even big problems in such a way that the average mind can grasp his meaning.

Officials from a number of Illinois cities are using all possible influence to have the general asembly take action which will make it possible to exclude special taxes authorized by the people from the sum total of $1.33 1-3 provided by the June law.

Representative Browne's action in amending the bill made the present effort necessary. Unless the wish of the city officials is carried out many municipalities will find themselves very much embarrassed during the coming two two years with taxing powers materially reduced. There is a need for lower taxes but operation costs for the average muncipality are such that reductions cannot safely apply there.

THE WEALTH OF ILLINOIS

"The wealth of Illinois is in her soil," reads the motto carved upon one of the state university buildings at Urbana. As if in ironic proof of the assertion, the motto is nearly blotted out by the ivy which has overgrown it.

And now comes the farmer with a plea for the soil of Illinois. He is asking for lower freight rates on limestone in order to combat the seriously decreased use of the fertilizer. He presents a strong case.

"In 1915 a bushel of corn would buy one and three quarter tons of limestone and would pay the freight on a ton of it 145 miles," says an Illinois Agricultural Association report. "Today a bushel of corn will buy less than a half a ton of limestone and wont pay the freight on a ton of it out of the terminal. The use of limestone in Illinois has declined sharply since 1919."

A committee representing the state college of agriculture, the state agricultural association, the county farm advisers, the Southern Illinois Development Association and the Farmers' Institute, has been conducting an intensive investigation since February and is asking lower freight rates on limestone.

Unless the important fertilizer can be had in greater amounts, the committee reports, Illinois faces the prospect of the abandoned farms seen in sections of the east and south. Twenty million acres of sour or acid soils in Illinois, says the committee, are worthless unless limestone is applied.

The farmer's plea for lower freight rates on this important fertilizer is not an unfair request. It aims not only for the good of the consumer and the farmer but for the gain of the railroads, as well. For if, as the committee reports, the proper use of limestone would increase the grain yield of southern Illinois alone, one hundred million bushels yearly, the roads would profit as well as the consumer and farmer.

ALLEN R. STURDY IS KILLED BY LIGHTNING

Well Known Farmer Meets Death Wednesday Afternoon Near Woodson — Four Others are Shocked.

Allen R. Sturdy a prominent farmer residing at Woodson, was instantly killed by a bolt of lightning about 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

L. P. Fisher and son, Lawrence Fisher, Harry Smith and son, Roy Smith, were riding on a wagon with Sturdy at the time and all were shocked. L. P. Fisher who was driving the team, was knocked from the wagon and received an injury on the head from one of the wheels.

Following the death of Mr. Sturdy, Coroner Rose was notified and went to the Sturdy residence at Woodson where an inquest was held. The jury consisted of S. J. Baxter, foreman; F. H. Thies, Fred M. Henry, Jesse Henry, A. E. Powell and E. E. Henry, clerk.

The jury only heard the testimony of L. P. Fisher and Harry Smith. According to the evidence the men were engaged in baling clover hay Wednesday afternoon when a storm came up.

They stayed at the baler for some time and were getting wet. It was finally decided to return to the house of Mr. Fisher on whose farm they were working. They started for the house, the party riding on a hay frame on a two horse wagon.

Shortly after starting a bolt of lightning struck Mr. Sturdy. He was taken to the house and Dr. R. R. Jones summoned but he found life extinct on his arrival. The jury after hearing the evidence returned a verdict that death resulted from a stroke of lightning.

Decedent was the son of George M. and Mary F. Sturdy and was born in Lincoln, Neb., December 12, 1884. He was united in marriage to Miss Laura Alice Potter, December 2, 1908.

He is survived by his widow and four children, Mary Catherine, Helen, Robert Allen and Nylene. He also leaves his parents and two sisters and three brothers, Mrs. John Gibbs, Jacksonville; Mrs. Scott Holmes, Earl Sturdy, Lee Sturdy and Clyde Sturdy, all resident in this county.

COMMENCEMENT AT ILLINOIS COLLEGE

The ninety-second anniversary of Illinois college is a matter of history and was a very pleasant one too. A large graduating class, a financial showing with a balance on the right side; no serious trouble of any kind; a perfect day for the commencement exercises, many old time friends here for the program and all things propitious for the coming year.

The usual arrangements had been made for the exercises under the spreading trees of the campus and with Goodrick's orchestra furnishing music all went well. In stately procession the graduating class, alumni of the college, class of '71, class '96, the trustees, faculty, the president and guests of honor came from the Whipple building and took their allotted places either on the platform or front seats. The invocation was pronounced by Rev. James M. Duer of the class of '95 and then came the oration of who took for her theme "High Fliers." She said in part: Two brothers, somewhat obscure and unknown, undertook to construct a machine that would fly in the air. They were ridiculed by many but they persevered and the machine soared until a defect caused it to come down but they didn't give up and the world knows the result.

Ambitious students with high aims are often ridiculed and discouraged but if they persevere with high aims they will attain success. There should be a spirit of comradeship; the aspiring should be aided and encouraged. The bright student may be able to do great things if helped but too often the opposite is what he gets and he becomes discouraged.

To do for others is the best aim in life. Education must not blind the eyes. We must meet the issues of life squarely. Napoleon sought to aggrandize himself and his ruthless wars caused thousands of innocent women and children to weep bitter tears. How different the discoverer of radium; working in small quarters, caring for home and children and giving to the world the grand substance which has been of so much benefit to mankind. The greatest are those who serve their fellow men.

Introducing

Prof. George Matthew Dutcher

President Rammelkamp told of his long time friendship for the gentleman and the pleasure he felt in having him here.

Prof. Dutcher said there was no collusion between himself and Miss Marshall though the title of his address was somewhat similar to hers; it was "High Street." He remarked on the pleasure he felt in being present on the commencement day and told of the long time friendship which had existed between himself and President Rammelkamp. He then said in part:

Common people are necessary in this world but there is also a place for others who have noble aims and lofty aspirations. Life on High street should not be exclusive; there should be correlation between High street and Main street. High street should not be patronizing but in a brotherly manner strive to aid the other by all possible means. There should be simplicity so that the people of Main street may not feel an inferiority.

During the great war all were united in one purpose; to accomplish the overthrow of the intolerable Hun and when came the collapse when we must get back to common affairs and the ordeal is hard. We are in a reconstructive period far greater and more important than the time which followed the Civil war and the greatest problem that ever confronted the world is before us. We have the voting population doubled now and on the whole good results have followed granting the franchise to women.

Economy Is Needed.

Economical management is now needed and it is hard to adapt ourselves to it. We miss the good times the war temporarily brought but we should be glad it is over and that we are not in Europe where so much conflict still prevails. The people of High street feel the conditions as well as those on Main street. When the people on High street do well the people on Main street prosper.

We cannot ignore the issues of the day. We had hoped there would be a league of nations that would end wars but it did not come to pass. America cannot isolate itself from the rest of the world. In some way we must do our part toward the restoration of safe and sound conditions the world over. Change cannot come in a day; it will have to be gradual and in the midst of many discouragements but there must be no revolutions or needless wars.

There is the problem of the weaker people in other lands; those who heretofore have had their affairs arranged for them by stronger nations who appropriated the domains to themselves but now they are thrown on their own resources and guidance and demand a place in the councils of nations. India and China reach out to us. They outnumber us and it is our duty to guide and aid them in every way possible.

There is a demand for leadership and the college bred man and woman are best fitted for it. It was a great sacrifice for Edward Becher to leave a desirable church in Boston and come out to the far west to organize a college but how grand the result. Great achievements are possible for the people of High street and they must discharge their responsibilities rightly.

Standing all day, or sitting in cramped positions and often with wet feet, young girls contract deranged conditions, and before they are hardly aware of it they develop headaches, backache, irregularities, nervousness and bearing-down pains, all of which are symptoms of woman's ills. Every mother who has a daughter suffering from such symptoms should profit by the experience of Mrs. Eicher and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

WORKING TO SAVE THE YOUTH OF FRANCE

Dr. Wadsworth and His Associates Seek to Train Boys and Girls to Become Useful Citizens in Chateau Thierry.

The Journal is receipt of the following very interesting letter from Dr. Julian Wadsworth, who is director of the Methodist Memorial at Chateau Thierry and who according to many witnesses is doing a splendid work.

The letter has especial local interest from the fact that Dr. Wadsworth and his wife are former residents of Jacksonville and from the further fact that Miss Rose Ranson and Miss Mary Wadsworth have also been identified with the work of the Methodist Memorial there.

Chateau-Thierry, Aisne, France
May 18, 1921.

To The Journal:

You have been kind enough to suggest that among the readers of the Journal there are those who are interested in what is being done in Chateau-Thierry. We love to think that from Jacksonville there were soldier boys who fought here in the summer of 1918. They certainly will be interested in the transformation of what they knew as the old "Hotel L'Elephant" into the stately building now known in Chateau-Thierry as "The Methodist Memorial."

Then too, the friends of Miss Rose Ranson, and Miss Mary Wadsworth will be glad to know something of the work which they have been doing for the children and youth of Chateau-Thierry. We have been particularly fortunate in having these two of your young women connected with the work of this committee.

When it was asked, "What Can the Methodists Do for Chateau-Thierry?, our good local physician Dr. Prieur, replied: "The greatest thing that can be done for France is to make the children and youth fit to take the places of the fifteen hundred thousand men who were killed in the war." Upon this suggestion there is now being carried out a definite and settled program for the making of manhood in Chateau-Thierry.

The work includes a Day Nursery for the babies of mothers who work in the musical instrument factory across the Marne, a kindergarten and classe de garde for the children after school hours. The most of these children are from devastated homes and would otherwise be in the streets. Miss Ranson and Miss Wadsworth have devoted themselves to these children, doubtless leaving upon their lives imperishable impressions as the children have literally "idolized" both of them. The work includes also a free circulating library with nearly a thousand volumes and the organization of three troops of boy scouts. All of this is supported by the Centenary Movement of the M. E. church as a loving memorial for the ten thousand American soldiers who fell in the summer of 1918 in the valley of the Marne.

We can hardly decide which department of the work is most dear to us. For the moment, I wish you could know something of the work of the boy scouts. Miss Wadsworth has been taking some snap shots of our boys.

The Boy Scouts were known in France before the war. Indeed the organization was advanced nearly as far as that in England and the United States. During the war, however, nothing was done and almost all work for boys was abandoned. There are now several divisions of the movement. One is under the Protestants, another under the Roman Catholics. A third has the patronage of the government. They all recognize the value of Scoutism for trainng boys and have agreed together to unite on one common program. Our organization is allied with that of the government.

Clayton E. Williams, of Indianapolis, has the work in charge. It has been interesting to watch the development of this growth from its small beginning last October to its latest achievement, when yesterday the boys came in from a three days' camping at Saint Dizier. The regional contests had been held in this place. Our boys had gained the highest number of points in every event but one. We felt proud of these Chateau-Thierry lads as they came in from this latest field of battle, modestly bringing their laurels with them.

At the beginning it was hard to implant the new idea. Chateau-Thierry is known to have been before the war a conservative little community of about 8,000 population. It was not given to innovations even though Americans might propose them. The Boy Scout movement was hardly known here, beyond four boys who had attended at one time for a short time a scout camp. These boys had not had the initiative to organize a local troop. At the invitation of Mr. Williams they came but with grave doubts of getting enthusiasm enough to form a troop. Others were sure that if it were formed it would undermine the two athletic clubs already organized. These were told that the "idea" of the scouts would in no way interfere with athletics and that the boys who were already in either of the clubs would not be encouraged to join the new one.

The first recruits were from the college, a preparatory boarding school of high school grade. These included the four lukewarn scouts who, having had some knowledge of the movement, had utterly failed to catch the true spirit of Scoutism.

It has been interesting to find the latent possibilities of leadership in these Chateau-Thierry boys. There have been happy surprises in some of the most unpromising ones and there have been disappointments in boys who might easily have exerted the finest influence in the organization.

One can see how hard it is for the boys of France who are now at the age from 14 to 17 years to have the finest principles. It is this class of youth upon whom fell the most awful curse of the war. In this devastated area they were twice driven from their homes. During five long years, when they needed most the influence of their fathers and older brothers, they had only their poor grief stricken mothers who were all absorbed in the work in the fields or munition plants. During these years many of the boys were left sadly to go to their ruin. More than the devastation of houses in France has been the destruction of the morals of the child-life. Teachers in the public schools have remarked the difficulty of dealing with the boys of this age.

For several weeks Mr. Williams employed his time in getting acquainted with the boys, imparting to them the principles of the organization. The first troop was formed with its two batallions named for the Iroquois Indians of America and the Kroumi Tribe in Africa.

Their first hike was to the Barbillon Woods, north from the Chateau. These woods were occupied by the Germans in 1918. With fearful fighting they held the woods until the 18th of July when they began the retreat. Interesting souvenirs of the Germans were brought in from Bois Barbillon. The next week it was an all day tramp to Bois de Jutte. These woods are on the heights above the village of Crezancy, on the south of the Marne. The Americans of the 3rd divison had held these woods. The boys came home with thrilling tales of the discovery of the names of American soldiers from New York and Massachusetts carved on the trees. Perhaps this was the last time these boys had left their names on record before that memorable fifteenth of July, when "The Rock of the Marne" turned the tide of the war and prevented the enemy from crossing the little river, and entering the "Gate to Paris."

During the Christmas holidays our boys made their camp in the committee's barracks at Barzay where they remained two nights. Later they went again to the same place. This time it was cold and wet and disagreeable. The hardships of life in the camp were beginning to be felt. The routine of required discipline was resented by some and a spirit of selfishness was shown. Those who had sought positions of honor and were shirking work were proving their unfitness for leadership. It was just as it had been in the large battles which had been fought upon these same fields when the moral characteristics were in evidence and that fine spirit of American altruism was seen.

There is one of our boys, who, at the first, was the last one would have thought would ever be a favorite with the troop. Tall, lean, lank, awkward, with big black eyes and sallow cheeks, but who soon proved himself faithful in the performance of the meanest tasks assigned to him. He is now looked upon with respect by every fellow in the troop. He is the one whom his leader entrusts with any particularly hard thing to do. It is this one who always remains the last to see that the camp or the room is left in order.

Another was at first a laughing stock for a certain group. He was styled the "cubist" because of the angular and grotesque attitudes he would assume in some of his stunts. His parents could not afford to let him give his whole time, but he worked early and late so that he might get to all of the scout meetings. His ambition was to get every possible advantage from these meetings and this was quickly noticeable. One can never forget the night of his initiation, the expression of terror on his face with the awful fear, as he bravely leaped from a height blindfolded directly upon protruding spikes from a board (which was removed before he landed.) He showed that night in the making of one of our finest scouts. He is a great leader, and had made a study of the stars. Inadvertantly he remarked to his chief, perhaps not fully understanding the question, "Oh yes, chief, I know them all by name." He still bears the nickname "Flamarion" who was the great French astronomer. He it was, however, who brought home from St. Dizier one of our highest scores.

The possibilities of real worth have been showing out as we have watched the development of another lad.

His father, before the war, was a journalist. He was killed in action. Everything was lost, including the devastation of their home up near Verdun. The widowed mother was left with the care of an invalid brother and a frail sister besides these two boys. The main support of the family now rests upon the older of the two who is working his apprenticeship as a machinist. He has received from his father a brilliant mind and a passionate longing for education, but must work in a machine shop. He has the gift of a ready speaker in debate. He has the very qualifications which would fit him to be a leader of bolshevists. Already he had been bitterly disappointed in the pursuit of his desire for an education. He was looking with a growing hatred upon the social inequalities of life, from which he felt that he had suffered. His heart was ready to receive the seed of revolution.

This boy with several others attended with Mr. Williams a scout conference near Paris. At that time he caught a new vision of life. He began to fit himself to become a leader of leaders in the scout movement. Mr. Williams, his chief has been to him a hero. The highest ideals of the organization are thus held before him. If the work with the boys of Chateau-Thierry has done nothing more than to give this boy the notion of right social leadership, it has done well.

Even more promising than the work with these older boys has been the work with the two younger troops. The Cadets and Les Louveteaux, or "Wolf Clubs". These youngsters are taking to Scoutism as ducklings to water. They go into the woods, bringing back their arms full of wild flowers and their brains full of things that a boy should know for the good of his own manhood and his country's honor.

Even as I write there comes to me the sound of their voices, singing their scout song. The words of this have been transposed for them to the march of "La Madelon".

"If you will have a light heart,
Devote yourself. It's the only way.
If your chief has need for volunteers,
Don't wait until your neighbor goes.
We'll talk around the fire tonight.
With a quick step, let's go, joyous Scouts,
For the camp, for the camp, for the camp."

WELL KNOWN RESIDENT OF WHITE HALL DIES

William A. Johnson Succumbs to Attack of Heart Disease at An Early Hour Wednesday Morning—Funeral Services Friday Afternoon.

White Hall, June 15.—Death of William A. Johnson, one of the best known former business men in this section of the state, occurred at 12 o'clock this morning in his home on Bridgeport street, aged nearly 72 years. Mr. Johnson was on the porch and about the house the day and evening previous, greeting friends, and announcement of his death came with shocking force. He was taken very ill about thirty minutes before the end with an affection of the heart, which had been coming upon him with regularity in recent nights. He had been in failing health for the past few years, and underwent an operation in a Springfield hospital nearly a year ago, and subsequently suffered an attack of apoplexy. With him when the end came were his only near relatives, a sister and a brother, Mrs. Nellie Ferguson, who had made her home with him since the death of Mrs. Johnson in January, 1920, and Edward Johnson of Carrollton.

Mr. Johnson was a native of Hardin, Calhoun county, born on August 14th, 1849, and when quite small left that county with his parents, and for several years the family was located at Jerseyville and Alton, finally coming to Carrollton. In February, 1897, Frank Frech came to White Hall from Carrolton and secured an option on the mill and elevators here. In the following April Mr. Johnson also came to White Hall and the partnership of Frech & Johnson was formed in the purchase and operation of these concerns. The mill was modernized and enlarged, and its products were never more popular or in greater demand than during the time this firm continued in business. This business relation was continued until June, 1914, and now the mill and elevator interests have come into the control of the White Hall Cooperative Milling and Elevator company with good prospects of regaining in large measure the prestige held by Messrs. Frech & Johnsoin.

During all this time Mr. Johnson was very popular with the patrons and the public in general. He had charge of the office, while Mr. Frech had charge of the milling, for which he still has a wide reputation, and has been importuned several times to return to the mill under the new management. Such a combination as Frech & Johnson is hard to match and they have always taken a wide interest in the general welfare of the community.

While a resident of Alton Mr. Johnson and Miss Mary Lowe, also of that city, were married, her death occurirng on January 24, 1920. Mr. Johnson was a member of the Knights of Pythias and the Presbyterian church. Funeral services will be held in the Presbyterian church at 2 o'clock Friday, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Lee A. Hanchett, and the interment will be in the White Hall cemetery.

TWO HORSES AND MULE KILLED ON WABASH

The midnight train on the Wabash killed two heavy horses and a mule belonging to H. J. Rice of Arnold precinct Tuesday night. The animals together with several others broke over a fence and on the right of way of the Wabash. The train was moving at a rapid rate and two of the animals killed were thrown from the track to a deep ravine nearby. The third was carried on the front part of the iocomotive for nearly 400 yards before the trainmen were able to dislodge it. The horses were of the Norman type and the wonder is that the impact did not derail the train.

VOCATIONAL WORK FOR EX-SERVICE MEN

C. G. Umbaugh, representative of the Federal Board of Vocational Education came to Jacksonville yesterday and today will confer with disabled ex-service men. He will be at the Red Cross rooms at the public library. At the present time twelve local men are taking trainng under the direction of this board and it is desired to help any other ex-service men who are desirous of having such assistance. The following statement was recently made thru the district office of the federal board relative to the general work:

On May 2, 1921 in the United States 77723 disabled solditrs, sailors and marines were in training under the Federal Board for Vocational Education. This training is divided into two classes. An ex-service man who met with disability which does not prevent him from returning to the vocation pursued by him before entering service or one in which he can earn his living, and has been awarded compensation by the bureau of war risk insurance is entitled to Section Three Training. This training the board terms job improvement training, and will pay for all tuition, books and supplies while the man is taking his course. The man continues to draw compensation from the bureau of war risk insurance and does not receive any money from the federal board. If the trainee had no vocation before service he is given a course for which it seems he is best adapted. This training can be taken in day or evening schools or by correspondence courses.

Throttling Handicaps.

Section Two training is provided for men handicapped from returning to their former vocatioon. In this class trainees are provided with free tuition books and supplies and also training pay which ranges in this city from $80 a month for a single man up to $150 a month according to the number of dependences. While taking Section Two training no compensation is paid to the man by the bureau. After completing his training under the federal board he is referred to the public health service if a physical examination shows the handicap still exists his compesation from the bureau is resumed. In addition to school training the federal board also provides for placement training, that is, giving the trainee actual experience on the job and carrying him on the pay roll until the board is convinced the man is capable to earn as much as either men engaged in that occupation.

Privilege of Appeal.

Disabled men awarded Setion 3 training and who are of the opinion they are entitled to reconsideration have the privilege of appealing their cases. Printed instructions are furnished for the purpose. It is necessary to furnish additional evidence to that already given in the case and this additional evidence is considered by the board of appeals in the district office in Chicago.

If the district board does not approve the appeal the case can be forwarded to Washington for decision. No case shall ever be finally closed against a soldier. So long as he lives he may appeal for reconsideration on any reasonable ground.

Territory Covered.

In adidtion to the district office of the federal board for vocational education, located in the Leiter Stores building 14 E. Congress street, Chicago, Illinois, known as Distirct No. 8 an dcomprising the states of Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin, there are local offices located in Chicago, Rockford, Champaign, Centralia and Peoria. The ePoria office supervises, in addition to the city of Peoria and Peoria county, the counties of Adams, Brown, Hancock, Henderson, Knox, Logan, McDonough, Sangamon, Tazewell, Warren, Calhoun, Cass, Green, Jersey, Morgan, Pike, Scott, Christian, Fulton, Macoupin, Marshall, Schuyler, Stark and Woodford.

Representatives visit these counties at frequent intervals and induct men into training in their localities or if a particular type of training cannot be secured at home, make arangements to transfer to another part of the district. In case this is done the disabled man is provided with railroad transportation, Pulman and meal requests and is under no expense, the government paying the cost of the transfer.

Paige Makes a Clean Sweep

Breaks Every Official Stock Chassis Record From 5 to 100 Miles at Uniontown Track

The Paige triumph is now complete.

From 5 to 100 miles, all world's official speed records for a stock chassis were captured by the Paige "6-66" Daytona Model at the Uniontown, Pa., track May 29th, 1921.

Following a world's stock chassis record made January 21st, when the Paige "6-66" Daytona model covered a measured mile in 35:01 seconds, the Uniontown performance caps the climax to a long series of amazing records.

Paige, thus, has made a clean sweep and stands today the unchallenged master of power and speed—the supreme and unique example among automotive products for heroic stamina and endurance.

When the mile record fell in January, Paige determined to make the record complete. With the officials of the A.A.A. racing board in charge, the track at Uniontown, Pa., was selected and Mulford driving a Daytona "6-66" stock chassis was off to shatter records that had remained unassailable since July 28th, 1917.

A Clean Sweep

The first five miles were covered at a terrific pace, the electric timer recording 3 minutes, 15:48 seconds, a speed of 91.8 miles an hour.

From there on the Paige came roaring over the official's wire with clock-like regularity that ate up the miles greedily. Twenty-five thirty, fifty minutes went by and there was no noticeable slackening of speed.

In the most consistent performance ever recorded the records had fallen. The five, ten, twenty, twenty-five, fifty, seventy-five, 100-mile and One-Hour records had been beaten in every instance by a handsome margin.

The official figures showed that Paige had covered the full century in one hour, 6 minutes and 53.26 seconds, or 89 miles, 1510 yards in 60 minutes—which is just 250 yards less than 90 miles. The former hour record was 83 miles.

And now for a brief review of "6-66" history.

Speed—Power—Endurance

When a Paige "6-66" stock chassis made the fastest official time of the season for the Pike's Peak climb, some idea of its amazing power and stamina was revealed under unusual circumstances.

When on January 21st the Paige "6-66" Daytona model traveled at a rate of 102.8 miles an hour, thus setting an official world's stock chassis record for a mile, the fleetness of the "6-66" was established.

When at 100 different points throughout the country 100 new local hill climbing records were made, the power of the Paige "6-66" became a country-wide sensation.

Now with these new records from 5 to 100 miles, made without a stop, Paige has incontestably established its supreme powers of endurance, as well as of speed. There could be no feat that answered all questions of supremacy with greater finality.

The lesson to the car owner is obvious. No matter what price he may be willing to pay he can find no car on the market today that offers him more than the Paige "6-66." The record is complete, and Paige stands as the undisputed leader of all American sporting cars.

In Your Own Interest— Make This Test

We ask you to take just one demonstration in a "6-66" model and judge it from the standpoints of power, speed, acceleration, spring suspension and general motor efficiency.

Get the facts—actual lapsed time of the tests—and make a record on the demonstration card furnished by our Dealer.

Then take a second demonstration in any other car, at any price, and compare results.

That is all we ask—and we make no prophecies whatever in regard to your ultimate conclusions.

We merely want you to know the "6-66" in action. We want you to compare it detail for detail—performance for performance—with the finest and most expensive cars of the nation.

Then, decide for yourself whether the "6-66" is or is not the greatest dollar for dollar value ever offered to the motoring public.

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

DEMPSEY FINISHES LOAFING PERIOD

Swings Back Into Active Work Thursday—Experts Say Champion is About on Fighting Edge Now.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 15.—While Jack Dempsey spent the last day of his vacation motoring to Camden to bring back his Belgian police dog, Jack Kearns, manager of the heavyweight champion was occupied with the referee question to be settled by the New Jersey boxing commission tomorrow. Kearns had a conference with Robert Edgren, mentioned as the ultimate selection and who, under the articles of the agreement for the Dempsey-Carpentier contest, is the sole arbiter of all disputes likely to come up before the match.

Kearns favors the selection of James F. Dougherty of Philadelphia, who has refereed two contests in which Dempsey participated. Dougherty is 51 years old and has been identified with the ring sport for 25 years. Kearns discussed the situation with Tex Rickard, promoter by telephone and it is understood that Rickard will attempt to have the action of the New Jersey commission on the referee situation postponed for at least a week.

After four days of loafing, Dempsey wil lswing back into his training grind tomorrow. During his inactivity, the cut over his left eye has healed which will permit resumption of glove work without danger of the wound being reopened. Experts agree that Dempsey is about on fighting edge now and will only need two weeks of strenuous training to get him into perfect condition for the defense of his title.

Petroleum—An Industrial Pivot

FROM the back of a sheep to the back of a man, wool passes through dozens of processes and machines, some of which were made possible, and all of which were shortened, by some product of petroleum.

So delicate is the adjustment of this machinery that from the cams moving at a rate of 350 revolutions per minute, to the flying spindles, whose revolutions per minute exceed 12,000, every part must be in unison. For, should one part be retarded a little, and another part speeded up unduly, through faulty lubrication, there would be a strain on the fabric, and a break.

The seriousness of such a break is seen when it is understood that the severing of a single thread will bring the giant loom to a standstill instantly.

This is but a single example of the problems constantly being brought to Standard Oil Company (Indiana) lubricating engineers for solution, and emphasizes the necessity for the minutest accuracy on the part of these specialists in drawing specifications for special lubricants, and the need for extreme accuracy on the part of the manufacturing department in producing lubricants to meet these specifications.

It illustrates how highly specialized is the branch of industry which engages the attention of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), and the degree of enthusiasm for perfection which must prevail throughout this organization.

And this enthusiasm does prevail. Harmony and concentrated interest is ever present throughout the organization of 25,000 men and women, every one of whom, from the Chairman of the Board of Directors to the lowliest recruit, is bending every effort to do his part in the production of useful products, and to have each of a superior standard of fineness.

GIANTS DEFEAT CUBS IN TWELVE INNINGS

Flack Hits First Ball Pitched for Home Run—Vaughn Weakens in Final Inning.

Chicago, June 15.—New York today defeated Chicago 6 to 2, in twelve innings of the hardest fought baseball seen here this season. Vaughn, pitching in his best form of the year, weakened in the 12th and the Giants bunched five hits, two of which were doubles with a base on balls and clinched the game. Chicago jumped into the lead when Flack hit the first ball pitched for a home run and then the Cubs added another by bunching hits off Benton. Barnes replaced Benton and the game resorted into a pitching duel until the ninth when Chicago's defense broke, errors by Hollocher and Killifer enabling the Giants to tie the score. The score:

CARPENTIER WORKS FOR BUCK PRIVATE

Ten Wealthy Land Owners Chased from Frenchman's camp—Buck Private With Empty Sleeve is Admitted.

MANHASSET, June 15—Ten wealthy owners of Long Island summer homes were chased from the camp of Georges Carpentier this afternoon but a veteran buck private of the world war was an honored guest.

After a strenous morning in the woods during which he did some shadow boxing, Carpentier ate his usual hearty meal, rested an hour and then went to the gymnasium.

The crowd at the front gate was larger than usual and altho the county policeman on duty had strict orders to keep out friends and treat all alike the men of wealth drew up in their sport automobiles and talked their way thru the portal. When they appeared in the gymnasium entrance Georges stopped work.

"Gentlemen," he said "I do not want to be bothered, please leave the camp."

They departed. Shortly afterward there came to the front gates a youth of twenty years with the left sleeve of his olive drab uniform coat tucked in a pocket.

"Say officer," he said, "I'm Private Edward Ebbitt, Fifth Machine Gun Battalion. I walked all the way from Troy, N. Y., to see Georges. See if you can get me in."

"Just a minute," the policeman replied and went to Carpentier.

"Bring him in" said Georges.

"How do you do Buddy," was the challenger's greeting.

"Aw fine," replied Ebbitt, "glad to see you. I want to say that all the fellers up home wish you luck because you were a good soldier and a buddy.

He watched Georges at work and after it was over, passed thru the front gate with a smile on his face and remarked:

"That guy'll win, sure as shootin'."

Manager Deschamps said this afternoon he would not attend the meeting of the New Jersey boxing commission tomorrow at which time the referee for the championship bout will be selected.

Daily Market Report

PRICE OF WHEAT CLOSED UNSETTLED

CHICAGO, June 15—Increased rural offerings of new wheat to arrive had a bearish effect on the wheat today and prices closed unsettled 3 to 3⅛c net lower with July $1.31¾ to $1.32¼ and Sept. $1.22¼ to $1.22½. Corn finished ⅜ to ⅞c down and oats off ⅜ to ⅜@½. In provisions the outcome was unchanged to 20c higher. Country offerings of new wheat to be shipped to Chicago in time for delivery on July contracts were of sufficient volume to put bulls at a decided disadvantage from the outset. Liberal receipts at western points, a total of 1,-200,000 bushels, suggested ample supplies of old wheat still on farms, slowness of export call tended further to weaken the market but this factor was partly offset later by word from the seaboard that considerable business with Germany had ben put thru. Floods in Nebraska and Kansas attracted notice also and reports of black rust in South Dakota came from a wider area. Rallies which ensued proved however, to be only transient in the absence of any aggressive buying.

Excellent crop reports and large stocks on hand put corn on the down grade and carried the oats market along.

Higher quotations on hogs gave something of a lift to provisions.

NERVOUS DAY ON STOCK EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, June 15.—Wide and conflicting fluctuations marked another nervous day on the stock exchange. Standard shares rose and fell 2 to 6 points and speculative issues lost from 5 to more than 10.

Oils were weakest, breaking violently at the outset on reports from Washington, indicating rapid depletion of Mexican supply.

Mexican Petroleum suffered an extreme decline of 13 points to 114 and affiliated shares, with Atlantic Gulf dropped 3 to 7 points; domestic and European oils with few exceptions also were under pressure induced by additional price cuts. The day's reaction, was intensified by other unfavorable developments, notably the weekly reviews of steel trades conditions which failed to forecast increased production.

Rails were among the isolated features of strength, the market rallying measureably at midday when New York Central and several subsidiaries continued regular dividends.

Sales amounted to 750,000 shares.

The money market and foreign exchange were unaffected by the upheaval in stocks. Plenty of call money was available at 5½ per cent.

MARRIAGE VOWS IN HANDSOME HOME RITE

Miss Cornelia LaRue Becomes Bride of Benjamin F. Lane — Ceremony Solemnized Wednesday Night.

Very impressive were the nuptial rites when Miss Cornelia LaRue became the bride of Mr. Benjamin F. Lane Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Josephine LaRue, 745 West North street, and the service was said by Rev. Thomas H. Tull, pastor of Grace M. E. church, in which both young people hold membership. Only relatives and very near friends were of the wedding ocmpany.

"Because", by D'Hardelot.

"At Dawning," by Charles Wakefield Cadman.

"A Sweeter Story Still," by Marcus Hope.

Miss Anna Frances Bradley gave three violin selections: "Souvenir," "Love's Greeting" and "To a Wild Rose." Miss Ellen McCurley was the accompanist for the two soloists and then played the wedding music from Lohengrin.

With the music still sounding the bride and groom stood before the minister and joined with him in the very impressive service. Mrs. Lane's gown was of white taffeta and lace. She wore a long tulle veil and her bouquet was of bride's roses.

After the cordial congratulations had been extended a wedding supper was served. All the rooms at the disposal of the guests had been made beautiful both with cut flowers and potted plants and all details of the arrangements made the wedding one of the handsomest of the season.

The bride, who is a daughter of Mrs. Josephine LaRue, has been a resident of Jacksonville for the past five years. She is a graduate of Knox college and her musical study was taken at the Conservatory of Music here. For a year past she has done very successful work with her music studio in Beardstown. As a young woman of fine spirit and with charming personality, she quickly became popular with a large group of Jacksonville people, who will with one accord join in extending congratulations and good wishes at this wedding time.

Mr. Lane, who is a son of Mrs. E. A. Lane of Riggston, is now accounted one of the prosperous and progressive young business men of Jacksonville. After graduating from Illinois college he was for several years city editor of the Journal, resigning his position to become the proprietor of the Lane Book Store. In a five year period that business has grown in a very gratifying way. Mr. Lane during his college life was actively identified with various student enterprises and has carried much of the same spirit into his business and general social connections. Mr. and Mrs. Lane both have musical ability and their mutual interest in musical affairs really led to their friendship.

The bride and groom left last night for Chicago and from there will go to Pentwater, Mich., for a stay of ten days or two weeks. Following their return to Jacksonville they will begin housekeeping at a residence on South Main street.

Among the out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Russell of Chillicothe, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Howell and Frank and James LaRue, all of Ipava,M Ill.; Misses Leona and Ruth Davis of Peotone, Ill.

Jacksonville Lodge No. 570 A. F. & A. M. will hold a stated meeting tonight at 7:30. Work. Visiting Brethren welcome.

WHEAT HARVEST IS BEGUN IN COUNTY

The wheat harvest in Morgan county is under way. Men are at work in a number of fields, altho the harvest is not at its height. Wheat of the soft variety is maturing earlier than the hard wheat. The difference in the time the wheat was planted is also showing its effect, and some fields will not be ready for the binders until the latter part of next week or possibly the last week in June.

The demand for special farm help has greatly increased but this year farmers will have no difficulty in securing all the men that they need.
